The house is now open every day and the staff are all excited to be opening the doors again and welcoming our visitors.

Our annual Easter Trail, sponsored by Cadburys will run from Sunday 8th – Monday 9th April. This year the trail (£1.50 entry) will be set inside Tintagel Old Post Office and its back garden. There will be a trail suitable for children aged 6 and under and another for children aged 7+, all involved will collect a chocolate prize.

The week beginning 23rd April see's us lighting the cloam oven for the first time this season. The firing proves a very popular event at the property with visitors being given the opportunity to see old fashioned baking methods put into practice. The oven will be lit on the Monday, Thursday and Saturday but there will be information and a brief history available all week.

If you wish to find out any more about any of the above, please contact the property on 01840 770024 or check the website;

Jo Burgess, Acting Custodian

With the start of spring as I write, we can look forward to increasing air and sea temperatures and the return of our summer species and an increase in the activity of our resident species. The first three months of this year were quite tough going but that is normal as the start of the year is historically the least productive time.

Our Annual presentation evening was held at the Wootons Hotel, Tintagel on Friday 24th February. The club organises shore, boat and junior competitions throughout the year with the opportunity to compete for over 30 trophies.

Trophies were awarded to members as follows:

The Fish of the month winner in January was Garry Boyde with a flounder.

Fish of the month winner in February was Nigel Rundle with a pollack of 10lbs 2ozs.

The efforts of Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall with his "Fish Fight" go on and over 786,000 people have now signed up. A proposed ban on the practice, which sees millions of tonnes of fish discarded each year, is now still on track to become law later this year, despite a concerted attempt by several European Union member states to derail the proposal at an EU fisheries meeting in Brussels on Monday 19th March. A strong showing of public support for the discards ban, orchestrated through social media sites on the internet, was thought to have played a major role in persuading EU fisheries ministers to stick to the ban. <http://www.fishfight.net/>

Forthcoming events during April and May include: An Easter collaboration match with the sign on from 5.30pm on Thursday 5th and finishing on Monday 9th at 9.30pm.

In May there is an all day competition on Sunday 20th with the sign on from 9am with the weigh in at 8.30pm

The big tides in April are on the 7th & 8th with the full moon on the 6th and the new moon on the 21st where sunrise will be at 6.14 & sunset at 20.25

In May the big tides are on the 6th & 7th and the full moon is on the 6th the new moon is on the 20th when sunrise will be at 5.29 & sunset at 21.09

The next general meeting will be held on Tuesday 3rd April at the Wootons Hotel at 7.30pm.

Good luck and be safe, Nigel.

INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR NEW RECYCLING SERVICE

Changes to collection services

From 2 April Cornwall Council will be making changes to householders rubbish, recycling and garden waste collections in Cornwall. All households will receive information about the new services, so everyone will need to keep an eye out for the leaflets and keep them safe.

Rubbish Collections

For most households the rubbish collection service will remain the same using a weekly “black sack” service. However, we will have to change a number of collection days to make the new collection rounds as efficient as possible.

Anyone who currently has a wheeled bin or used a standard rubbish bin for storing their waste, will still be able to use this, but we need the rubbish to be bagged inside the bins, when they put out for collection.

Recycling Collections

There will be a new fortnightly recycling collection service, based on a recycling box and three reusable bags.

Some areas of Cornwall already have some of this equipment. We do not intend to waste taxpayer’s money by replacing existing reusable boxes and bags with new ones, so we will only be delivering new equipment in specific areas to ensure all householders have the full set of containers to help them to recycle.

From 6th March 2012 we will begin delivering the following equipment to the former district areas:

Former North Cornwall, Caradon and Restormel

This new system will replace the current arrangements of different coloured disposable plastic sacks.

We will deliver a black recycling box for glass, a blue reusable sack for paper, a red reusable sack for cans and plastic bottles, an orange reusable sack for cardboard and we will collect textiles in plastic bags that the householder must provide themselves.

This new system will replace the current arrangements of different coloured disposable plastic sacks.

This service change will be a vast operation, and it will take at least a couple of months to deliver all of the equipment to every property in Cornwall.

Delivery will begin in the eastern half of Cornwall in March, where there is currently no reusable equipment. The west of the Cornwall already has some of this equipment and so will be able to continue to recycle as they currently do until the additional equipment arrives.

Each delivery of containers will be accompanied by a leaflet that will explain how householders should use the new service.

Garden waste collections

The new garden waste collection service will be based on the use of brown wheeled bins. To access the service residents will need to buy a new wheeled bin, which will remain their property for future years. Residents will then need to subscribe to the scheme. There are two sizes of bins available and residents will be able to buy a six or twelve month permit to the service.

The Council will also have reusable sacks available for residents who are unable to manage or accommodate a wheeled bin at their property. This service will only be available to these properties in consultation with the Council.

Information

We will inform residents of these changes with leaflet with each delivery and a service leaflet, including a calendar which will be posted to each individual property in mid March.

There is more information on the Council's website www.cornwall.gov.uk/recycling or householders can call 0300 1234 141, or email refuseandrecycling@cornwall.gov.uk.

REPORT FROM CLLR. GLENTON BROWN

The budget came through without too many surprises this year, and the good news is that there will be no increase on Council Tax as far as the Cornwall Council's commitments are concerned. Police and Fire will possibly make a small increase per household.

The budget has been set at £451.7 million for the year 2012/13.

It is encouraging to note £700,000 will be funded for Cornish bursary to support young people into learning post sixteen for the next two years and additional £7m for adult care and support to address the pressures created by increasing numbers of older people and the cost in changes in preventative and re-enablement services. There is also some provision made for the A30 Temple road improvements.

Local bus services seem to be secure for the next year if not a little further ahead with any cuts in services at our end of the County. The proposed modest 50p concessionary fare has not yet been approved and is under Parliament scrutiny at the present time.

Finally I would like to end on an increasingly popular topic the 2012 Olympics and the Olympic Torch travelling through the parishes and towns including the City of Truro. This is of course a once in a life time opportunity for many people to actually see the torch at some location in Cornwall. To celebrate this special celebration the Chairman of Cornwall Council is seeking to host a civic event at Truro Cathedral.

Finally if I can be of any help please do not hesitate to contact me on 01840 770302 or my email address gbrown@cornwall.gov.uk.

TINTAGEL GARDEN CLUB

In February Mike and Andy from the Cornish Birds of Prey Centre treated us to an enthralling insight into the behaviour of these magnificent birds; we were introduced to three very different examples of these remarkable creatures.

The Harris Hawk, a determined and efficient killing machine, happy to operate for anyone who provides it with food, uses the protruding claw on the back foot to instantly break the neck of its prey. It also has long legs to race along the ground should the unfortunate creature manage to escape!

The second, a Jhia crossbred female, a refined and attractive bird which maintains a loyalty to its handler, the females are usually unable to breed. They are highly prized by wealthy Arabs as status symbols.

Andy introduced the final bird with a wry smile, and to our astonishment no friendly barn owl emerged from the large box, as we had anticipated, but a ten-month old Golden Eagle. This wonderful bird with a six foot wingspan, relates entirely with its handler, which can cause difficulties if it becomes separated, certainly the empathy between the two throughout the demonstration was quite surreal.

There are some 120 birds and other animals, at the Centre, which is also registered with Raptor Rescue. There are flying demonstrations daily and various handling courses available. A “must go” for the family.

In March John Mann returned by popular demand. His subject, herbaceous perennials. After a practical demonstration showing the various methods of propagation – root cuttings, root division, stem cuttings and collecting suitable seeds, John went on to show some excellent slides of many famous gardens from which he described the endless contrasting effects that can be created from mixing and matching the wide range of differing plants and colour throughout the summer. An interesting account which had no doubt stimulated new ideas from materials, which are readily available to us all.

St Piran's Day Celebrations

On St Piran's day the school community joined the children on a St Piran's day pilgrimage. The pilgrimage took our older children to Halgabron crossroads where we were met by a police escort accompanying them on the short distance along the lane to the footpath leading through Trethevy woods. Younger children and less able members of the community were transported by coach directly to St Piran's chapel at Trethevy. The whole school had the opportunity to explore the holy well and the chapel. The Rev Barfoot performed a very short ceremony. Then we all returned to school waving our flags to participate in a family pasty lunch.

Thank you to all the adults that joined with us to make this celebration a wonderful fun experience for all involved. Put the date in your diary for next year we shall be doing it again!
